with its dedicated core team of office-bearers.

When asked for a comment, Mr Srivastava said: "I am thankful to the core committee for the trust shown in me and I look forward to contributing my insights for the trade's development. NACFS has always addressed policy matters to make CFSs and ICDs more competitive. Our core committee is dedicated to work with relevant authorities to bring about meaningful changes in logistics trade under the government's 'Ease of Doing Business' policy."

NACFS was founded in 1994 and is the apex body of CFSs and ICDs all over India. With more than 110 CFSs and ICDs under active membership, it has become one of the most prominent associations in the industry. The association is involved in analysing logistics-related policy matters to boost trade and work towards bringing notable changes in the industry with the help of the core committee members who have decades of industry experience.

NACFS aims to provide a platform to all CFSs and ICDs where ideas are exchanged and inputs of various players from different regions of the country are evaluated to come up with trade-friendly suggestions. The association aims to closely coordinate with government authorities to find permanent solutions and promote all-round industry growth.
